STEWART.—Brother Joseph Gilson Stewart, March 22, 1902. He was born 58 years ago or June 1, 1843, and after an exceptionally active life, save the eight years of sickness, passed from things earthly to things heavenly, aged 58 years, nine months and 21 days. Brother Stewart in his death left to mourn him a faithful wife, three devoted daughters and a number of small grand children to whom he was much attached. There were present three sisters and one brother, the brother coming from Kansas the day Brother Stewart passed away.

Brother Stewart had been a member of the Brethren church for eight years, but for many years a follower of Jesus, he uniting with the Brethren of Moxham shortly after their organization and remaining one of the church's most loyal and earnest supporters until the day of his death. His great desire was to secure a house for the Brethren to worship in, and two years ago was one of the committee of two to raise money for the purchase of the property we now own, and tho in poor health, he was very active and successful in his work. It is with profound regret to many that he did not live to attend the dedication. The funeral services were held in the Moxham Brethren church which was crowded with sympathizing friends. The writer assisted by brother I. D. Bowman conducted the funeral services after which all that was earthly of our departed brother was interred in Grand View cemetery.

HEINZE.—Mable, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Heinze and grand daughter of Brother Stewart, of scarlet fever, March 27, 1902. This was the second death in one week, leaving a very sad and lonely family. Little Mable was an exceptionally bright and happy girl and tho not yet two years old she will be greatly missed by both family and friends. May God teach us all of the better hope of meeting in the home beyond.

BOONE.—Mary A. Boone, March 22, 1902, at the home of John Cayton on Broadway, Dayton, Ohio, aged 69 years and 2 months. Sister Boone for forty years was a consistent member of the church. She identified herself early in life with the German Baptist church, but when the Brethren church was organized, became one of her most devoted members. She was never married but leaves four sisters and one brother to mourn their loss. Her funeral was largely attended which showed she had many friends. Funeral services by the writer.

J. L. KIMMEL.

LICHTY.—Ruth Lichty, infant daughter of brother and sister P. J. Lichty on March 3d, after an illness of four days with membranous croup, closed her beautiful blue eyes in death. Aged two years and 22 days. Funeral services were held at the home of the parents. "Suffer little children to come unto me and forbid them not for of such is the kingdom of God" were the words of consolation which the broken-hearted mother asked us to use for the comfort of the family and friends. The departed life was one of unusual loveliness. To see her was to be irresistibly drawn to her. While lying in the mother's arms a few hours before death came, the little one, observing the tears rolling down her mother's cheek, promptly raised its feeble hand and wiped them away. Altho its life was short it was one long cloudless day. While it has left a vacant place in a most pleasant home on earth it has gone to a mansion where death and pain can never enter. We ask the prayers of all who read these words in behalf of the sorrow stricken family.

Empty barns in October are the logical sequence of empty furrows in spring. The young man may as well understand that there are no granularities in this life.—Rev. Charles H. Parkhurst.
